Any information concerning the coins, etc., will be promptly and cheerfully given.

Thick paper catalogues of this sale may be had on application at 25 cts. each, and after the sale copies may be had neatly priced in red ink for $1.25 each.

COPPERHEADS — MONEY OF NECESSITY.

Many will remember that during the early days of the late war of the rebellion, owing to the limited supply of small change, for some time after the beginning of 1862 we were reduced to great straits for the want thereof; this want was supplied in the business community by the production by different individuals of an immense variety of fractional bills, in denominations varying from 1c. to 75c. each; also by an enormous emission of the Tokens referred to, familiarly known as Copperheads. In this issue New York and several Western cities took the lead, and small legitimate money soon became almost unknown, this giving place to a genuine coinage of Coins of Necessity. These Tokens and small bills were totally unauthorized and frequently with no responsibility behind them; but the Government soon remedied what was at first a great convenience but had become no less than a nuisance, by an abundant supply of minor Coins and Fractional Currency. This latter became so great a convenience that the retail trade of the country would hail its reappearance with pleasure.

Amongst the collectors of these interesting coins, Mr. Levick was one of the earliest in the field. Not satisfied with pieces from circulation, he took the greatest pains to procure from the makers fine selected specimens in all the different metals, including especially silver and nickel. Although Mr. Levick's collection proper was sold in May, 1884, the owner reserved many of the finest examples, comprising a vast variety, all of which are now offered for sale. Amongst these will be found silver, copper, brass, nickel, tin, and lead. The lots are selected with reference to metal and condition. Duplicates are liable to be found in any lot, and no one lot duplicates another. Those with milled edges were all struck proof; they were made to order, and cost in quantity 15c. each, and it is not probable that a dozen can be found outside of two or three prominent collections.

Sold to 183 withdrawn.

It seems an anomaly to call a coin a copperhead when struck in any other metal than copper, but it will be borne in mind that the term, as applied, had a significance rather political than numismatic. The following 23 lots are all struck in brass. Nos. 128 and 129 have milled edges, and struck proof, and all are extremely rare.

- 128 Copperheads; brass, milled. 50 pieces.

- 129 Copperheads ; in quality and materials like the last.
59 pieces.

- 140 Copperheads ; brass, equally fine. 40 pieces.
- 141 Copperheads ; brass, equally fine. 40 pieces.
- ✓ 142 Copperheads ; brass, equally fine. 40 pieces.
- 143 Copperheads ; brass, equally fine. 40 picces.
- 144 Copperheads ; brass, equally fine. 40 pieces.

- ✓ 148 Another lot ; equally fine. 40 pieces.
- ✓ 149 Another lot ; same quality. 40 pieces.
- ✓ 150 Another lot ; same quality. 30 pieces.

The following, to No. 167 inclusive, are all struck in nickel : many have milled edges and many are proofs ; few were struck in this metal, and all in uncirculated condition are very scarce.

- ✓ 151 Copperheads ; nickel, mostly proofs. 40 pieces.
- 152 Another lot ; equally fine. 40 pieces.
- 153 Another lot of the same quality. 40 pieces.
- 154 Another lot ; same quality. 40 pieces.

40 pieces.
- 157 Copperheads ; equally fine. 40 pieces.

- 162 Copperheads ; same material and condition as the preceding. 40 pieces.

- 165 Copperheads; all nickel; equally fine. 40 pieces.
- 166 Similar lot; equally fine. 17 pieces.
- 167 Copperheads; all struck proof, with milled edges. The finest lot in the collection. 32 pieces.

All the following, to No. 182 inclusive, are struck in tin, and all are bright and uncirculated; owing to its unfitness as a circulating medium the material was seldom used, and the few that are occasionally found are almost invariably ruined by circulation. To find another collection approaching this, either in quality or quantity, would be utterly impossible.

- 168 Copperheads; tin, many proofs. 30 pieces.

- 170 Another lot; tin, equally fine. 40 pieces.
- 171 Another lot; tin, equally fine. 40 pieces.

- 179 Others equally fine. 40 pieces.
- 180 Others; same quality. 40 pieces.
- 181 Another lot; the same. 40 pieces.
- 182 Another lot; various; equally fine. 13 pieces.

A COLLECTION OF COPPERHEADS IN SILVER.

- 183 For an obvious reason these pieces were never struck in silver, except for cabinet specimens. The following were made expressly for Mr. Levick, and were formerly in his collection. Many of them are struck over dimes, hence the planchets cost at least 10 cents each. A large number of them are thick, and of extra weight, and all were struck with extra care. The owner knows of no other collection of equal magnitude. As it would be a pity to break up the set, they will be sold together. In silver these pieces are extra rare. 64 pieces.

DIMES.

Mr. Matthews early turned his attention particularly to the Dimes and Half Dimes of the United States series, with a determination to possess the finest set of these coins that could possibly be procured. His success in this endeavor is sufficiently attested by his collection, described in the following numbers; the Dimes, as may be seen, are fine, but on the Half Dimes he particularly prided himself, some of which indeed can scarcely be surpassed.

- 2.70 801 1796 Fine, very little circulated, hair and feathers perfect, trifling scratch on the obverse, rare so fine.

HALF DIMES.

- ^{1.10} 897 1794 Brilliant proof impression, extremely rare. From the celebrated Hartford find, all of which it is believed have passed into the hands of collectors.
- ^{1.50} 898 1794 Perforated above the head, with this exception good, very rare.
- ^{6.00} 899 1795 In quality almost matches the '94. This is from the Rea hoard, discovered in Roxbury, portion of a birthday present kept from its date to about 1870; a bend so slight as to be almost imperceptible can be seen on the obverse; in this condition as rare as 1794.
- ^{1.00} 900 1795 No. 1. Perfect die; would be fine but for a little perforation, rare.
- ^{19.00} 901 1796 Brilliant, uncirculated, one of the finest known.
- ^{50.00} 902 1797 Fifteen stars; very fine indeed, in quality about matches the last, extremely rare.
- ^{5.00} 903 1797 Sixteen stars; uncirculated, even finer than the last, equally rare.
- ^{32.00} 904 1800 Uncirculated, one of the finest examples in the series, very rare.
- ^{3.00} 905 1801 Unusually fine for this date, very rare.
- ^{40.00} 906 1802 Obverse, every part is distinct, LI in Liberty and the lower stars back of the head are faint; on the reverse a portion of the legend is indistinct, the rest fairly legible; the obverse of this coin is certainly fair, the reverse not so good, still in the main distinct, considering its excessive rarity; it is guaranteed genuine, and cost the owner about $150.
- ^{25.00} 907 1803 Scarcely any circulated, very fine indeed, and worthy to form a part of this set of half dimes.
- ^{10.00} 908 1805 Brilliant, uncirculated, in condition the obverse is scarce less than a proof, the reverse nearly as fine. I believe it is the best example known, except Mr. Randall's specimen, which I sold in his sale, No. 793, for $65; this is but little inferior to that; excessively rare.

MINOR COINS SELECTED FOR DEALERS.

The minor coinage, seemingly without reason, unless it is that the pieces are all cheap and easily procured, have been neglected by dealers, so that it has become almost impossible to obtain the early uncirculated coins, except in proof condition, and the rarity of a number of these is very observable,—notably the proof sets of 1877,—the three pieces usually selling for $3 and upwards, and all dates have become rare up to 1881. Of these low-priced coins Mr. Randall was the only one, so far as I know, who had the forethought to lay in a large supply. That supply is not only reduced, but nearly extinguished, and the following list enumerates all remaining, with very few exceptions.

CENTS.

LOTS SELECTED FOR DEALERS.

The following Cents comprise the entire stock selected by Mr. Randall for his retail trade. They are of every quality, running from poor to bright uncirculated. Of the latter there are many, and amongst the various dates will be found numerous examples worthy to be placed in good cabinets. Mr. Randall did not make a specialty of Cents, as he did of silver and gold. Nevertheless he was usually able to supply good examples from the stock which he always kept on hand. All were included in my purchase of his stock and collection, and all remaining are now offered to collectors and the trade. Such an opportunity to purchase Cents for stock, ranging in quality from poor and fair to very fine, is seldom presented to the dealer.

The uncirculated red Cents for 1816 to 1820 which a few years ago could be found without difficulty, seem to have passed out of the hands of dealers, and to have become very rare. I know of none to be obtained with the exception of the few comprised in this catalogue. Several of the dates which now command from $5 to $10 readily, were easily obtained within a short time for a few cents each, and seldom commanded so much as $1.00. The bright 1796 and 1797 which now bring readily $20 and upwards, were distributed freely without price; and, when sold, the price was little more than nominal. Long since I commenced the business, these Cents were offered me, a bag full at a time, for $1 00 each. Thinking the price too great, I declined the purchase, though I afterwards bought all that could be obtained. All the early bright Cents are rapidly becoming equally rare, and it will be but a short time before they will command as many dollars each as they now do cents.

WASHINGTON PIECES.

This fine and interesting series has of late fallen into unmerited neglect, but the publication of Mr. W. S. Baker's admirable work, "The Medallie Portraits of Washington," seems to have revived the interest in the series. The book describes no less than six hundred and fifty-one distinct varieties of Washington coins and medals. It is simply indispensable to the collector, and its perfection and accuracy is such that it leaves little to be desired in this specialty. All of these pieces, except in the Season Medals, bear a portrait of Washington, mostly after the Houdon bust.

- 31c 1773 1791 Washington Cent. Military bust; rev., eagle and shield, "One cent" above, lettered edge; bronze, nearly proof, scarce.
- 1c 1774 1791 Like the last; worn, and has a slight perforation.
- 1300 1775 1792 Washington Cent. Bust, hair in a queue; rev., upright eagle holding an inscribed scroll, above the head a single star and over it a curved line of twelve stars; in good condition and excessively rare; in this particular surpasses any of the Washington cents, except the naked bust, one of which I have within a few days sold for $100.
- 3c 1776 North Wales Halfpenny. Bust to left, Georgius Washington; rev., a crowned harp; not fine, but very good and very rare.
- 10 1777 Military bust; rev., a grate, "London, 1795"; bronze, good, scarce.
- 75 1778 Bust to left; rev., shield surmounted by an eagle, "Liberty and Security, 1795"; edge lettered, "Payable at London, Liverpool or Bristol"; copper, fine, scarce.

- ²⁵1779 Irish Halfpenny. Hope standing, 1795; rev., from the same die as the last, 1793; copper, fine, rare.
- ³⁷1780 Double-head Washington; copper, barely circulated, rare.
- ²⁷1781 Duplicate of the last; fine, scarce.
- ¹⁰⁰1782 Liverpool Halfpenny, 1793. Bust; rev., a ship; copper, fine, scarce.
- ³⁵1783 Washington and Independence, 1783. Bust; rev., Liberty seated; copper; proof, edge engrailed; from English dies.

- ¹³⁵⁰1791 The Season Medals. This series consists of three medals; they are occasionally found in silver and in bronze. The only perfect set I have ever seen I sold in Mr. McCoy's collection to Mr. Lightbody for $900. The first represents a man sowing grain, another man with team ploughing in the distance; rev., within a wreath, "Second Presidency of Geo. Washington, MDCCXCVI"; original: bronze, very fine. 22.

Another. Interior view of an old-fashioned kitchen; a woman spinning on a little wheel; a loom in the back ground; to the left a baby in a cradle; rev., like the last; bronze; original, very good.

Third. The last of the series; a cottage and landscape; to the right a shepherd tending sheep, to the left a cow and calf; rev., like the last; perfect, silver-plated electrotype, made by Mr. Crosby, whose work is never surpassed. The three will be sold as a set. The preceding remarks sufficiently indicate their rarity.

- ¹⁰1792 Season medal; of the variety first described; like the last a superb silver-plated electrotype.
- ⁵⁰1793 The Halliday Medal; of the same design as the better known Sansom Medal. Military bust; rev., sword, fasces, etc. The original is one of the rarest of the Washington Medals. This is a fine copper electrotype, and the electrotypes are rare. 34.

- 3.⁰⁰ 2064 Another Doggersbank Medal: two full rigged ships in action; rev., insc. in Dutch in 8 lines; silver, perfect, rare. 19.

The seven preceding medals are all of the rare Dutch-American series. I think they are all described by Van Loon, but they were first conspicuously brought to the attention of American collectors through an importation made by me from Holland. For six of the preceding, the late Charles I. Bushnell paid me $600. While they are no longer so rare as indicated by the price mentioned, they are certainly to-day the very rarest of American Revolutionary Medals, and it is by no means probable that one hundred examples of all the single medals in the aggregate now exist. They are, without exception, of highly artistic workmanship.

- ^{17.50} 2065 Medal of Charles Carroll; of Carrollton; rev., "Upon entering his 90th year, Sept. XX, MDCCCXXVI." - 1-25 2076 A harbor, with ships to the right and left ; in the foreground a gallows, from the arm of which a man is hanging ; date below, 1743, '44 ; rev., in the foreground the Gallic cock is overcome by the British lion, a file of soldiers approaching from the right, in the right background a fortification manned by soldiers, in the harbor to the left ships of war ; various parts of the medal are marked with letters from A to I, apparently referring to some key ; this medal ante-dates, by a year or two, the taking of Cape Breton, but evidently refers to difficulties between France and England ; copper, small perforation, but very fine. 25.
- 2-50 2077 Canadian Temperance Society Medal ; rev., the Holy Family ; tin, proof. 26.
- 1-00 2078 Bunker-hill Medal ; view of the death of Warren, June 17, 1775 ; rev., the monument surrounded by clouds and sun's rays ; "Success to the Fair, Sept. 8, 1840" ; dies by Mitchell ; copper, fine, original, rare. 27.

This medal, many years ago in the possession of Mr. Holland, was declared by him to be unique. Since his sale, in 1878, no other has appeared. It is undoubtedly of great rarity; tin, fine. 80.

- 14 2166 Collection of Store Cards. The following comprise all the remainder of Mr. Matthews' collection of Store Cards. In this first lot will be found most of those known as of the Hard Times period of 1837 or thereabouts; there are few if any duplicates; all are originals, and they are with few exceptions fine, and many are known to be rare. Want of space forbids any detailed description or even mention of the varieties; they are mostly of red cent size or larger, and in all the various metals in which they usually occur. 180 pieces.
- 3 2167 Another collection of Store Cards. Nearly thirty years ago several New York gentlemen discovered in the hands of the Seoville Manufacturing Company of Waterbury, Conn., a large number of the dies of various business cards, nearly all of the Hard Times period, and many of which had become excessively rare : they caused a large number of these cards to be restruck from the original dies, and nearly all of the following are of that issue ; they are in various metals, and are mostly in bright and perfect condition ; many are proofs. The lot is selected with the view of avoiding duplicates ; more or less will no doubt be found, but the number is small. A most desirable lot. 355 pieces.

It is said never to be found in Japan in the hands of private persons, unless stolen; and, when one is offered for sale, it is valued at from \$100 to \$200. Finely finished, and bears on one side, in cavo-relievo, four large Japanese characters; on the opposite side, seven characters: in the centre a square hole of $\frac{1}{2}$ in. It is at least doubtful if another sample can be found in America.

THE NEXT SALE OF THIS SERIES No. 81,

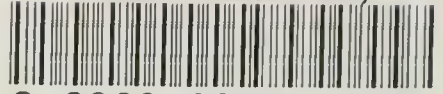

Will comprise an important library, especially rich in Numismatics and Archaeology. In the former department many volumes that are seldom seen, and some that have never been offered here at auction. In archaeology, will be found the principal works of Sir John Lubbock, and of various European writers, including Nils-son, Evans, Stevens, Waitz, Broca, Voght, Pouchet, Gastaldi, etc.

In the American portion will be found a full set of the Reports of the Smithsonian Institution, beginning with the 4th and ending with the last. The rare volumes of the Smithsonian Contributions to Knowledge, Aboriginal Monuments of the State of New York, by E. G. Squier; Archaeology of the United States, by Samuel F. Haven; and, perhaps, the rarest of the whole series, Ancient Monuments of the Mississippi Valley, by E. G. Squier and E. H. Davis, as well as the works of Abbott, Short, Foster, Jones, Maclean, Southall, Schoolcraft, and others. Passing without notice several interesting features in this collection of books, it may be mentioned that it comprises an unusual number of early N. E. imprints of an Historical character, notably, the works of the early writers on the Indian Wars in New England; among others original copies of Penhallow's, Church's, and the Mathers' Works, concerning these early wars, together with an unusually large number of volumes by the Mathers, running in dates from 1669 to 1721. Nearly all of these rare volumes are fine, perfect copies, and their rarity can hardly be overrated. The sale will take place as soon as the catalogue can be got ready, at the rooms of Messrs. Bangs & Co., 739 and 741 Broadway, New York City.

The auctioneers will distribute catalogues and receive and execute orders for the sale for librarians and private buyers.
